WEATHER FORECAST BULLETIN for the TROFEO RIZZOTTI

Saturday 8 june 2024 - h13.30

FORECAST AREA: coastal-maritime stretch between Lido di Venezia and Jesolo

Saturday 8 june

Sky and precipitation: modest variability with partly cloudy skies, with some clear spells; not to be excluded some rain on the plain and near the coast; the probability of showers in the area of interest will be very low.

Temperatures: maximum around 26-27 °C.

Wind: weak from the north-east, with a tendency to become weak/moderate (5-12 knots) from the south-east; in the late afternoon/early evening rotating from the east, mostly weak (4-8 knots); not to be excluded some reinforcements in the afternoon (15-20 knots).

Sunday 9 june

Sky and precipitation: variability with clouds alternating with clearings; no precipitation until the afternoon; from late afternoon/evening increased instability and probability of showers or thunderstorms on the eastern plain. The first significant rainfall may affect the coastal area between 7pm and 10pm.

Temperatures: minimum around 20 °C and maximum around 26-28 °C.

Wind: until the morning light (5-8 knots) from the north-east, from the central hours rotating to light/moderate (5-12 knots) from the south-east; in the late afternoon/early evening greater variability, with reinforcements possibly associated with thunderstorms.
